

PROSPERITY IS SHOWN IN HAWN. COM'L'S REPORT

The past two months, we can reasonably expect the full return of the investment in less than one year.

The total losses for the season amounted to 11.48 per cent, which was a fairly good showing, considering the fact that the mills were taxed to their utmost capacity during the greater part of the grinding season.

It is fortunate that we are usually able to finish harvesting by the middle of June. Otherwise, here at Punahoa where we have a dry climate and high winds, the loss of sugar in the fields would overshadow any slight manufacturing loss that we incur by crowding the mills.

Various pump improvements and ditch extensions are described by the manager, although, on account of the fine climatic conditions in 1914 already referred to, the pumps were not called upon to do as much pumping as for the previous two years. "In order to supply our laborers with pure water for domestic purposes," it is stated, "we are installing sand filters through which all the drinking water will be filtered. A complete new piping system will be installed to take the water from the filters to the various camps. This work is being done under the general supervision of the territorial board of health."

In addition to the two shredders before mentioned, two new boilers and two 750 k.w. turbine-driven generators will be installed this year. The generators will supply the factory with sufficient power for motor drives already installed, motors for the new shredders and motors to take the place of the old Scotch engine, which has been in service for 24 years and now drives the crystallizers, vacuum pumps, sugar elevators, dryers, etc.

Preparing for Free Sugar.
"With free sugar," the report declares in this connection, "it will be impossible to set aside any money for improvements. It has therefore been decided to spend no less than $150,000 for this purpose in 1915, for there are several improvements that are absolutely necessary in order that we may be better prepared to meet future conditions."

Besides the factory improvements mentioned and the domestic water supply, the report states that a new store will be built at Kahului, that there will be a large amount of ditch work to carry on, that it will be necessary to purchase about $15,000 worth of horses and mules and to build new quarters for the laborers. It is mentioned that the company is sufficiently well off for labor to carry on all branches of the work.

A feeling tribute is paid to the loyalty of the late A. J. McLeod, head lunal of the Kihel division, who died of tuberculosis on December 6 last, and in conclusion the manager states that "it is a pleasure to say that the loyalty to the company of the responsible men of the various departments played no small part in the results obtained."

Coming Crops.
Up to date of the report, February 11, 1915, 2900 acres of cane for the 1915 crop had been harvested, yielding 7.18 tons of sugar an acre or a total of 20,820 tons. There being 3671 acres then still to be harvested, the manager felt it safe to estimate the crop at 56,000 tons of sugar. For the 1916 crop planting was finished on July 30 and hilling-up on October 12, on which the manager comments: "With this unusually good start and with a good combination of fields, that are under excellent cultivation, our 1916 crop should be our banner crop if weather conditions are favorable during the coming summer." The 1915 acreage is 6626.6 acres, being 2152.8 of plant and 4473.8 of ratoon cane.

Financial.
Following are figures from the treasurer's account, exhibiting the financial success of the company last year:

Profit on sugar and sundry earnings, $1,347,368.23; dividends paid, $1,240,000; balance forward, $107,368.23. Adding this profit and loss balance to that standing at the beginning of the year, and $242,550 as enhanced value of livestock, the balance on December 31 was brought up to $610,893.54.

In the balance sheet presented by Emil Tschumi, secretary, assets are placed at $11,430,176.15, consisting of permanent improvements at $6,516,796.42, growing crops at $1,788,048.24, investments at $1,766,125.50, and miscellaneous at $1,359,205.99. Liabilities to balance the assets comprise $10,000,000 capital stock, $734,000 5 per cent bonds, $610,893.54 profit and loss balance, and the remainder Maui railroad and steamer, plantation payroll, unpaid drafts and suspense account obligations.

GERMANS BOARD CHINA TO GET OUT OF ORIENT

When the Pacific Mail liner China emitted a call at the British crown colony at Hongkong on the outward voyage from Manila to San Francisco, a score of Germans, many from the warbound steamers in the Philippines took advantage of an opportunity to return to the Fatherland.

In addition to the sailors the China is carrying a delegation of German civilians who joined the vessel at Japanese ports.

Ex-Governor Frederick Winckler of the Celebes islands, with his wife and son, are en route to the United States. The official was taken a prisoner of war after the Japanese landed their expeditionary forces in the Marshalls and Celebes. He was paroled and spent some months in Manila before taking passage in the China. Mrs. Fehstein, wife of a prominent German exporter in the Marshall Islands, is numbered with the German refugees.

The China met with fine weather in crossing the Pacific. No attempt was made at the several Japanese ports to remove the Germans from the vessel.

The China will leave for San Francisco at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will leave 998 tons of Oriental cargo. The vessel brought three cabin, three second-class and 114 Asiatic steerage passengers. Through to San Francisco the vessel carries 118 cabin, 30 second-class and 161 steerage travelers.

A party of 30 missionaries who left India made exceedingly close connection for the United States in the China at Hongkong. Captain Hans Thompson held his command one hour to accommodate the missionaries.

The vessel has 1538 tons of through cargo.

Among the through passengers are a party of oil experts who have spent several years with a large corporation in Burma. Justice Adrian C. Carson of the Philippines, at one time a gubernatorial possibility, is returning to the United States with his family. He joined the vessel at Manila. A. E. Aced, a prominent Manila businessman, is en route to the mainland. Three wealthy Chinese merchants are traveling first class. They propose to engage in business on the Pacific coast.

Lieut. Foy, Lieut. Noyes, Lieut. Allen, Lieut. McKinney and Lieut. Bastedo, five naval officers, entertained at a beautiful dinner last night at the Army and Navy Club, when the girls in the navy set were the honor guests.

Pink wild rose bushes and palms formed the decoration on the large oval table, and corsage bouquets of violets and yellow roses were at each lady's place.

Dr. and Mrs. Ransdell chaperoned the party, and the guests were Miss Robinson, Miss Code, Miss Wilson, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Southernland, Miss Drake, Miss Bryan, Miss Fluke, Miss Conger, Miss Nash, Miss Gheen, Miss Price, Miss Kindeberg, Miss Peary, Miss Du Eose, Miss Bartlett, Miss Theiss, Miss Wiley, Miss Adele Magruder and Miss Clark.

Miss Margaret Wilson was in New York last night for the presentation of "Sanctuary," the bird masque, given by the pupils of the Washington Irving High School.

The masque was written by Percy MacKaye, and at its first performance at the summer White House in New Hampshire both Miss Margaret Wilson and the then Miss Eleanor Wilson took part.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, the counsel of the interstate commerce commission and Mrs. Joseph W. Folk, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sim Lee and the commandant of the marine barracks and Mrs. George Barnett were among those entertaining dinner parties last week.

and slowest stage of their ascent. Loughman's telephone messages became incoherent and he was hauled quickly to the surface, just after Crilly was taken out of the recompression chamber. He reached the surface a few minutes after 3 o'clock and went into a dead faint as soon as his helmet was removed. He was at once placed in the air lock, where he remained under medical care and under the ministrations of Crilly for almost nine hours.

Lifting Gear Holds.

The heavy work of yesterday and last night proved a successful test for the two pontoon scows that were fitted up by Naval Constructor Furer to handle the sunken submarine. With the exception of a small defect, which was found early in the evening and which took several hours to fix, there was no sign of giving away to any of the gear. The supreme test came early this morning when one of the bow cables parted. The released line jumped a couple of turns around the drum, the entire strain coming on the other rig. It was just the sort of accident that the naval men had hoped to avoid as putting an undue strain on the lifting machinery, but the fact that when it happened the machinery stood the test is a matter of considerable moment.

It was possible to break out the submarine from the sand without using pontoon methods and this leads the navy men to believe that the entire journey shoreward can be made without submerging and pumping out the scows.

What moves will be made when the F-4 is brought into shallower water is a matter of conjecture. The main point is to get her out of the excessive depth to a place where the divers can work without risking their lives every time they make a descent. Although Chief Gunner Stillson and his experts are ready to do more deep-sea exploring whenever called upon, it is unlikely that there will be any more diving until the F-4 is brought into much shallower water. The four divers who have gone down have all done their work well and have been able to bring up exact information as to the position of the cables which hold the submarine in a double sling.

"We are ready to do whatever diving is required," said Stillson this morning. "Loughman, I'm very glad to say, is getting along nicely. He had a close call Saturday and the strain has told on him, as was to be expected. Besides the nerve shock, he is a mass of bruises, caused by being buffeted against the taut cables. He's resting easily and I hope is well on the road to recovery."

There was a conference at the Honolulu naval station this morning, in which Admiral Moore, Naval Constructor Furer, Lieut. C. E. Smith and Master Rigger Fred Buss all took part. Afterwards Capt. Smith stated that work would go right on under the same general plan. The navy men are not at all discouraged by the breaking of one cable, as they anticipate all sorts of delays and disappointments on a job of this magnitude. In fact, if the F-4 is successfully salvaged, a new world's record will have been established.

During the lifting and towing operations last night and this morning, the two scows were behind the Gaylord, while the tugs had their lines to the dredge. With the unwieldy dredge in between, it was difficult to get a steady pull, especially with any sea running. It is probable that on the next attempt lines will be run directly between tugs and scows.

Wednesday for Galveston with her mother and children. She will be at the Htoel Galvez.

Later Mrs. Corcoran and her party will sail for Honolulu to join Capt. Corcoran.

SMART CASE IS UP TOMORROW; MAY BE ENDED

Definite announcement as to the amicable settlement of the Thelma Parker Smart case may be forthcoming tomorrow morning, at which time two phases of the contest between Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight and Henry Gallardo Smart are set for hearing in Judge Whitney's court.

These have been continued week to week for nearly two months, but when the last continuance was granted attorneys for both sides intimated they probably will be ready to make final disposition of the case when they are next called.

It is understood that Judge Antonio Perry, former associate justice of the supreme court, who was appointed temporary guardian of Richard Smart, the minor, by Judge Whitney, is reviewing the terms of the compromise which is believed to have been reached by the contending parties. If the agreement meets with his approval he will file a document in court outlining the disposition of the property included in the big estate; of the income as desired to be apportioned between the parties, and the custody or guardianship of Richard Smart, at the same time probably naming the woman who is to have charge of the youngster during his minority.

There is a possibility, however, that because of the great bulk of the compromise document and the care required in preparing his statement to the court, Judge Perry will ask further time. In that event there will be no development in the case tomorrow.
